2. Values marked TBC are proposals to be confirmed together during development. Please suggest alternatives where your experience says better.
3. The front wordmark artwork is subject to final brand approval. Please don't order branded trims or bulk-print until written sign-off.

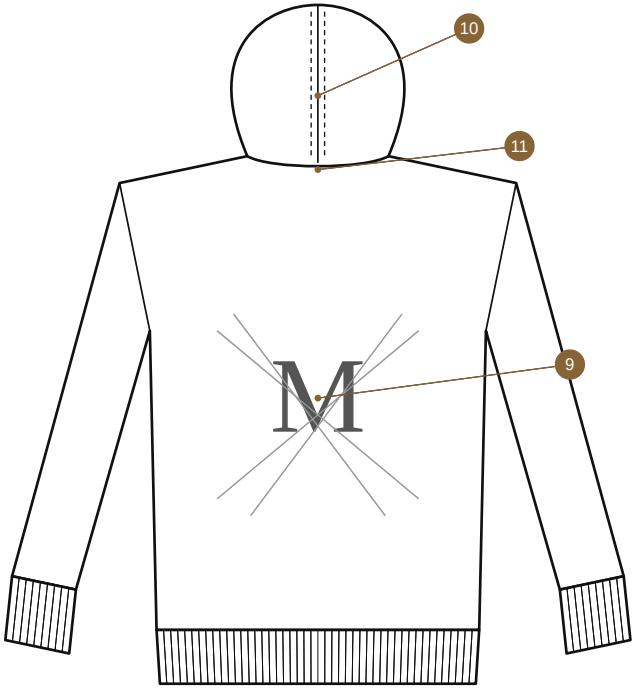

Design reference renders (Black). Final colors to be matched from approved lab dips.

SEAMS & STITCHING (SHELL)

Body / sleeve seams	4-thread overlock, 10–12 SPI
Armhole	Overlock + twin-needle coverstitch topstitch 0.6 cm
Hood CB seam	Overlock + twin-needle coverstitch
Cuffs / hem rib	Overlock, seam allowance pressed to body, single-needle topstitch
Kangaroo pocket	Hand openings faced, twin-needle 0.6 cm, bartacks at 4 corners
Back neck	Self-fabric tape 1.2 cm, twin-needle, covers neck/lining seam
Face opening	Self-fabric facing 2.5 cm, turned to inside, so silk never rolls to the outside

SILK LINING

Construction	Two-panel hood, same pattern as shell minus 0.3 cm ease at crown, French seam at CB (no raw edges)
Attachment	Joined to shell at face opening under the facing, and at neckline enclosed by neck tape. Free-floating elsewhere.
Needle / SPI	Microtex 70/10, 14–16 SPI, light presser pressure, tissue/stabilizer as needed to avoid puckering
Pressing	Silk setting ≤ 150 °C with press cloth, no steam spotting

HOOD BUILD: EXPLODED (NOT TO SCALE)

A. Shell hood (washed)

B. Silk lining hood (22 momme)

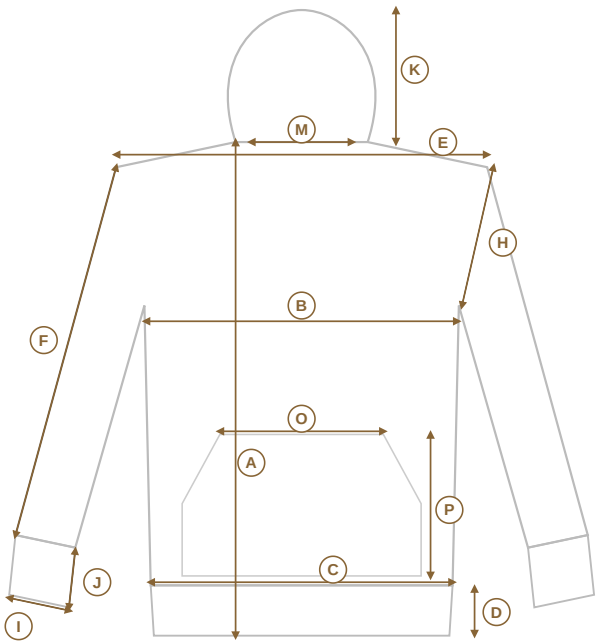

C. Self-fabric face facing 2.5 cm, hides silk edge

D. Self-fabric neck tape encloses lining/neck seam

REQUIRED BUILD SEQUENCE

1. Cut shell, rib and silk. Shrinkage-test the shell first and add wash allowance to the shell pattern.
2. Apply chest embroidery to the front panel (or post-wash; factory to advise from strike-off).
3. Assemble the full shell (body, sleeves, rib, pocket, shell hood with facing), without the silk lining.
4. Garment wash, sun-fade and speckle-spray the shell. Tumble dry or air dry to the agreed shrinkage.
5. Apply HD/chrome prints after washing so the metallic finish stays crisp.
6. Sew the silk lining hood separately. Attach it at the face facing and neckline, then close the back neck with the tape.
7. Attach labels and hang tag. Final low-temperature press, protecting the silk and the prints.
8. Inline + final QC (page 8), fold with tissue around the hood, and pack.

QUALITY REQUIREMENTS

- Final inspection AQL 2.5 (major) / 4.0 (minor). Zero tolerance for holes, silk snags, silk visible on the outside, or print peeling.
- Measurements within tolerance on 100% of the pieces measured.
- Print adhesion and crack test after 5 home washes on the PP sample.
- Color fastness to washing and rubbing ≥ grade 4 (shell and silk).
- Silk lining: no puckering at seams, no shine marks from pressing, hood hangs without pulling.
- Thread ends trimmed, no loose stitches, labels straight.

OPEN DECISIONS (FOUNDER)

- Drawcord: renders show none (recommended: keeps the silk hood clean, no eyelets through the lining). Alternative: flat cotton drawcord with metal aglets and eyelets in the shell only.
- Silk lining color: one color for all colorways (black, or natural ivory as a reveal) keeps silk minimums low.
- Front wordmark: final brand artwork pending trademark clearance.
- Order quantity per color/size: to follow sample approval.
